

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

June.

Poems are like paintings; some close by, some at a distance most delight the eye.

—Horace.

BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.
And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then heaven tries the earth if it be in tune.

And over it softly her warm ear lays;
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
The heart back over hills and valleys,
Every cloud feels a stir of might.

An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And groping blindly above it for light,
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;
The flush of life may well be seen.

The cowslip starts in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there's never a leaf nor a blade too mean

To be some happy creature's palace;
The little birds sit at his door in the sun,
And like a blossom among the leaves,
And let his illumined being o'erturn.

With the deluge of summer it receives;
He mates feels the eggs beneath her wings
And the heart in her dumb breast flutters
And sings.

He sings to the wide world and she to her nest—
In the nice ear of nature, which song is the best?

Ownbey—Egbert.

One of the prettiest of the many June weddings was celebrated Tuesday evening, at 9 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's aunt, B. F. Gibson, No. 800 East Clay Street, the Rev. Richard L. Ownbey, of Wilkesboro, N. C., and Miss Pauline Egbert, daughter of Mrs. Julia Egbert, formerly of Allee, Hanover county, being the contracting parties.

Decorations were in white and green, the bay window was massed with palms, the arch, being festooned with dainty draperies of green, which made a beautiful background for the bride party.

The Rev. Mr. Dunnaway, the bride's former pastor at Allee, was the celebrant.

The little Misses Sydnor, cousins of the bride, were charming little ribbon-bearers, forming the aisle in dainty dresses of white muslin and lace. Next came the groom with his brother, Mr. Burton Ownbey, of Asheville, N. C., as best man. They awaited the bride, who came in with her sister, Miss Lillie G. Egbert, as maid of honor. In white organza, with Valenciennes trimmings. Her flowers were white carnations. The bride's dress of accordion plaited muslin de sole, made in princess, with yoke and sleeve finishings of Duchess lace, suited her slender girlish figure to perfection, a band of pearls, the only ornament, completing a very lovely toilet. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo. The wedding music and by request of the bride, who was a pupil of Miss Minor, played during the ceremony the dainty little song, "Plighted," of which Miss Minor wrote both the words and the music.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridegroom received the congratulations of their relatives and a few intimate friends. After a stay at the seashore, Mr. and Mrs. Ownbey will be at home at Wilkesboro, N. C., where Mr. Ownbey has charge of the Methodist Church. Numerous beautiful gifts in cut-glass, silver, china and rare pictures testified the popularity of the young couple, one of the most notable being a piano, from her mother, sister and brother. The personality of both groom and bride is very attractive, so natural and gracious in their manner, and the best wishes of numerous friends go with them.

Morrill—Logan.

The wedding of Miss Lily Logan, daughter of General and Mrs. T. M. Logan, of "Algonia," Virginia, to Mr. Albert Henry Morrill, a member of the Cincinnati bar, was celebrated at 10:30 o'clock on the forenoon of June 28th, the Rev. T. H. Lacy being the celebrant.

Mrs. Douglas Forsyth was matron of honor, and Mr. Weld Allen Rollins, of Boston, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Morrill will make their future home at Cincinnati, O.

Tallyho to Fassifern.

Misses Janie and Ellen Cameron, of "Cameron Hall," Goshen, Va., now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tate Sterrett, at Hot Springs, Va., were the guests of honor in a tally-ho party given by their hosts to "Fassifern" farm. After a delicious luncheon the party spent the afternoon in fishing. Among those present were Misses Daisy and Lydia Pole, Charlotte, Margaret and Constance Stephenson, Edith McDonald, Janie and Ellen Cameron, Messrs. Will, Linear and N. Pole, A. W. Cameron, Clark Stephenson, Tom and Reid Sterrett, the Rev. W. E. Hill, the Rev. J. G. Scott, H. M. Tschudy and Tate Sterrett, Jr.

THE GOOD, GREAT MAN.

By SAMUEL TAYLOR COLERIDGE.

Other selections from this author, his portrait and biographical sketch, has already been printed in this series.

HOW seldom, friend, a good, great man inherits Honor and wealth, with all his worth and pains! It seems a story from the world of spirits When any man obtains that which he merits, Or any merits that which he obtains.

For shame, my friend! renounce this idle strain! What wouldst thou have a good, great man obtain? Wealth, title, dignity, a golden chain, Or heap of coarses which his sword hath slain? Goodness and greatness are not means, but ends.

Hath he not always treasures, always friends, And calm thoughts, equable as infant's breath; The great, good man? The treasures—love and light, And three fast friends, more sure than day or night— Himself, his Maker, and the angel Death.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

recently returned from the Philippines, and is now at Portland, Oregon, is anxious for General and Mrs. Cox to include a visit to him and his family in their plans for the summer.

Soiree Musical.

A delightful soiree musicale was given by the pupils of Miss Petricolas's class at the Woman's Club, No. 211 East Franklin Street, last evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The pupils reflected in the rendition of their numbers the careful and excellent work of their teacher in their training. Both teacher and pupils received the hearty congratulations of those present. The following is the programme in full:

Miss George Wedded.

The Baltimore Sun of yesterday contains a very pleasant mention of the wedding of Miss Annabel Lee George, of that city, to Mr. E. Hayward Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Boyce. Mrs. Boyce is the granddaughter of the late Stephen B. Lee, of Baltimore, and the sister of Mrs. John Mowley Walker, who for some years made her home in Richmond. At the time of the last Confederate Bazaar in Richmond, Mrs. Boyce was visiting her sister, and took an active interest in the Maryland table.

Guest—Phipps.

The New York Herald of Thursday contained the following mention of a wed-

L. Smith, returned this week after a delightful visit to Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta.

Mr. W. L. Goodwyn is quite sick with a relapse of fever at the home of his father, Judge Goodwyn, of Notoway.

Miss Emma Campbell, of Bowling Green, Va., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Floyd Clarkson, of Semmes Avenue, Manchester, Va.

Mrs. Avis Wheaton, widow of General Wheaton, and sister-in-law of ex-Governor William Sprague, of Rhode Island, will sail on July 5th with the Taft party from San Francisco for the Philippines. From Manila, Mrs. Wheaton will go on around the world with a party of friends, and not return to this country with the Secretary of War's distinguished party in October. Mrs. Wheaton has made her home for some time with her sister, and Governor Sprague, at "Canohel," their handsome home near Narragansett Pier.

Mrs. I. J. Gaylord and Mr. L. N. Clark, both of this city were married in Washington, D. C., Tuesday afternoon, by the Rev. Donald McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. After making the above statement, the Washington Post adds: They will visit the various eastern watering places on their wedding trip.

Mrs. Mary B. Dawson, formerly of Charlestown, W. Va., now of Leesburg, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Fannie Dawson, to Mr. William A. Metzger, of Leesburg.

The Berkeley County Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy will give a Confederate fete at Inwood Park on July 4th, for the benefit of the Berkeley county veterans. A tournament will be followed by dancing in the evening.

The many friends of Mrs. Laura Tucker, widow of the late Hon. John Randolph Tucker, who was quite badly injured while alighting from a carriage several weeks ago at Louisville, Ky., and subsequently brought to the hospital in Winchester, Va., will be glad to know that Mrs. Tucker has left the hospital and is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. McGuire, on Amherst Street. With the aid of crutches Mrs. Tucker is now able to walk about.

Miss Mary Prince Blackburn, of Lynchburg, is at St. Luke's Hospital for surgical treatment.

Mrs. M. J. Hancock is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. L. Luck, of Caroline.

The Caroline Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy are going to give an entertainment on July 14th to raise funds for the monument. To say they are going to have Mr. Polk Miller is a drawing card sufficient for an immense crowd. He will appear at County Line Church on the evening of the date mentioned.

The New York Herald of yesterday contained the following mention of the wedding of a Virginia girl, an advance account of which has already appeared in these columns:

At St. Michael's Church, in Bristol, June 28th, Miss Elizabeth Uzzell Wardwell was married to Mr. John Taylor Lewis, of Clarksville, Va. Both are widely known in society. The bride descended from old families of Rhode Island and Virginia. The bride is the eldest daughter of former Lieutenant Governor William C. Wardwell. The bridegroom was United States vice-consul general to Rio de Janeiro, and was also a commissioner of the State of Louisiana to Brazil and Portugal. The maid of honor was Miss Marguerite Wardwell, and the best man was Mr. George T. Lewis, of Virginia. The wedding was held at the home of the bride's father.

Mr. Richard E. Byrd, Jr., of Winchester, who has spent his first year at the Virginia Military Institute, has been made a corporal for next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harwell are guests of friends at "Carter Hall," near Millwood, Va.

Miss Lucinda M. Patton, of Stafford, who was a nurse at the Mary Washington Hospital, in Fredericksburg, for more than a year, has graduated as a trained nurse at the Memorial Hospital, in Richmond.

Mr. W. L. Joel, of this city, was called to Roanoke, Va., by illness in his family.

The engagement of Miss Marion Ingalls, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. Ingalls, of Kansas, to Dr. Jesse Edwards Hunt, of Atchison, Kan., has been announced by Mrs. Ingalls. Since the death of the ex-Senator, her widow and daughters have lived in Atchison, their former home.

The Wytheville Dispatch says: Mrs. Robert Poage and Miss Effie Devan have returned from Lexington, Va., where they attended the finals at the Virginia Military Institute. Miss Devan and Cadet Tazewell Elliot, Jr., of Richmond, led the final ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Clapp, of Pittsburg, Pa., will reach "Rosemont," their handsome home in Clarke county, about July 1st, to remain several months.

Mrs. James R. Lampkin is visiting her brother, Mr. J. Archer Vaughan, in Hampton, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Warren spent a few days of this week in Clifton Forge.

Mr. Michaux Harvie is spending his vacation with friends at Thorneycroft, Va. The Clarke Courier compliments Dr. Stuart McGuire in saying: Dr. Stuart McGuire, who is well known and has many relatives in this section, was last week elected president of the University College of Medicine, Richmond, of which his distinguished father, Dr. Hunter McGuire, was the founder. He is one of the youngest medical college presidents in this country.

Miss Ellie Beasley, of Clifton Forge, is the guest of friends in Richmond.

Miss Schermerhorn, of Richmond, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Grosnus, in Park Place, Norfolk.

Captain W. H. Mullner will spend the summer with his family in Charlotte, Va.

Miss Lucy Clair Atkinson will spend the month of July at Atlantic City.

Mrs. C. O. B. Cowardin has abandoned her intention of going abroad, and will spend a part of the summer North.

Miss Gladys Kylich, of Jackson, Miss., is the guest of Mrs. R. T. Durham, at No. 60 East Grace Street.

Colonel W. T. Robins and family have left the city for Massanutten Springs, a delightful resort near Harrisonburg, where they will spend the summer.

FAIRMOUNT NEWS.

Miss Rosa Collins, of Greensboro, N. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Sharp, on Twenty-third Street.

Mrs. Robert Jones has left for Highland Park, where she will spend several weeks with her son.

Misses Bessie Stafford, of Petersburg, and Misses Bessie Stafford, of F. F. Mount, will spend the remainder of the summer at West Point.

Mr. J. H. W. and children will leave in a few days for a visit to relatives in the country.

Master Hudson Kuhn is suffering from a severe cold, which he cut on a piece of glass while playing near his home a few days ago.

Miss Ellen and little Pavy and Alma Albertson, who have been visiting relatives in Hanover county for the past two weeks, have returned home.

Miss Ellen Bradley, of Bradley, Washington, D. C., who was called on account of the death of her brother, Joseph Newbold, of Twenty-fifth Street, is spending some time with Mrs. Guilamyer, near the National Cemetery.

At the meeting of the Fairmount Five of Lady Macabees, held this week, several candidates were initiated. After the business was over, an hour of social intercourse was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Quite a large number of Fairmount folks will go to Buckroe today with the ladies of Ashbury Place Methodist Church of the West End.

Mrs. Harry Kline and little son have left on an extended trip through Northern Pennsylvania.

Mr. William Sickie is confined to his home by sickness. He is suffering with chills and fever.

Mrs. Mollie Evans, of Richmond, has returned, after a visit to Mrs. Mary Lawrence.

Miss Gertrude Smith, of Bedford, is the guest of Miss Sarah Scott, at the parsonage.

W. H. Martin, of Hanover county, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pollard recently.

Mrs. E. E. Richardson will leave today for Greensboro, N. C., on a visit to friends.

Mr. Newton L. Gentry and son, Linwood, have returned from a visit to friends in Mecklenburg county.

Serious Runaway Accident.

A runaway accident yesterday nearly caused the death of Leo Dorsett, a colored driver for Sitterding-Carnel-Davis Company. The man had gone to his home, which is opposite the company's stable, leaving his team outside, and while eating dinner, saw the horses start off. Running out to intercept them, he stumbled and fell in front of the team, receiving a blow in the breast. He is in quite a serious condition, sustaining a crushed chest and internal injuries. He was attended by Dr. R. E. Jones, a colored physician.

New Uniform for Band.

Members of Iardella's band have been equipped with a brand new uniform of dark blue. The material was provided by the woolen mills of Charlottesville.

The concerts are increasing in attendance each night, and the behavior is good, owing to the vigilance of the police.

FASHION HINTS

LADIES' SKIRT.

No. 3201.—A stylish skirt of light weight material for wear with skirt waists is a necessary item of the summer wardrobe.

The design pictured here is the latest and the prettiest development of the box plait skirt. It is shown made up in navy blue and white nub polie, and machine stitching gives it a tailored finish. The close fitting upper section of the skirt and the full box-plaited flounce are each cut in seven gores. Two lengths, sweep and round, are provided.

Other materials that will be suitable for making up in this style are serge, tweed, cloth, cravatette, mohair, linen, plaid and buckram.

The pattern is cut in five sizes—22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches, waist measure. For 26-inch size, 7 1/2 yards of material, 42 inches wide, are required.

These patterns can be gotten at The Cohen Company for 10c.—Adv.
